

Hi Cindy,

I'm writing this letter as a concerned Caledon resident on behalf of my fellow neighbors and myself. I understand that there is an application into the Town of Caledon to re-zone the property of 6939 King Street from Prime Agricultural Area to Rural Lands to permit the establishment of a place of worship. We are in total disagreement with this application. We all live out here in this open, country space for just that reason. We appreciate the farm land, the open space, the low traffic and the quietness. We don't believe that such a large establishment should exist out in the country. We already have an event center, The Royal Ambassador, and that is more than enough for our area. These types of builds belong to bigger cities, where there is a larger population, which can support the extra traffic. If we wanted to live in a busy place we would be living in Orangeville, Brampton or Mississauga. Caledon is known for it's beautiful farmland and green space. To rezone our farmland is just the beginning of losing what makes Caledon special. We need to protect our open space, farmland, animal space and water.

Thank you for your time and please keep me updated on the outcome of the decision.
